Canadian Limousin Association Members Nominated to the CLA Board of Directors for the 2018 Director Election

MIKE GEDDES

Mike Geddes' involvement with the Limousin breed at a fulltime level began in 1998 on a purebred operation. Through Top Meadow Farms' genetics he has met many Limousin breeders at both the local and national level as well as international breeders. He has also worked closely with many Limousin based commercial producers at the cow/calf, backgrounding and feedlot sectors as well. Mike served on both the Canadian Limousin Association and Ontario Limousin Association boards in the past and he is currently a director with the Ontario Limousin Association. He feels a major goal of the breed should be to increase sales of Limousin bulls to the commercial industry. Limousin sired calves excel at every level of the production system. Another very important part of the breed is new breeder development. The CJLA is the program that really helps develop our "new breeder" expansion part of the breed. We must continue to expand and modify our junior program as needed.

MATTHEW HELENIAK

Born and raised in Oxford County, Ontario, Matthew followed in the footsteps of his father, former President of Norwich Packers (a beef harvesting and processing facility) Richard Heleniak. Richard, a well-respected business and cattleman, groomed Matthew from a young age in the many areas needed to create quality beef from 'hoof to plate'.

After deciding that Agricultural Business was the career of choice, Matthew attended the University of Guelph (2 years) and Oklahoma State University

(3 years) to further develop his skill set. During his time at these Universities, Matthew became a member of OSU meat judging team where he garnered a keen understanding of all different types of American Grading systems for many different species of animals and earned a degree in Animal Science.

After the sad passing of his father in 2005 during his last semester of school, Matthew came home to take on the responsibilities of his father, which included plant management, cattle procurement, and feedlot management at Norwich Packers. Along with Richard's brother and partner at "Norpac" Ron Heleniak, they have maintained and grown the well-respected family business for the past decade guiding it through the very challenging post BSE era of the Canadian beef industry.

Matthew also runs a cow-calf operation under the Hawkeye moniker, and has put together his herd of cattle from a packer & feedlot perspective trying to maximize his cattle in the areas of yield, feed efficiency, growth, and tenderness. In the 12 years since its inception, Hawkeye has morphed into a premium herd with 30 purebred animals and 130 commercial cows.

In summary Matthew is fully committed and excited to be part of the Canadian Beef Industry and is always looking for better ways to market Canadian beef at home and abroad.

AMANDA MATTHEWS-HAYWOOD

Hello Everyone- For those who do not know me, I am Amanda Matthews-Haywood of Highland Stock Farms-located just west of Bragg Creek, Alberta. Our family has been involved in the Limousin breed since its arrival to Canada—I have had the privilege to be born and raised into the Limousin community.

Alongside my parents, Rob & Marci Matthews, as well as my husband, Chris Haywood and our two sons, Holt & Revington, we run 75 purebred cows. Holding an annual bull sale on the third Saturday of March at our ranch in Bragg Creek. Chris and I also own, Diamond H Industries, a manufacturing company that is geared toward creating custom cattle stall, chute, and other ranch items. I currently am finishing up my maternity leave from Alberta Treasury Branch, where I work at the Bragg Creek Agency—working for ATB has inspired growth for my understanding of the financial world, which I believe is a key component when becoming a part of an association board. I graduated from Lakeland College in Vermilion, Alberta with a Livestock Production diploma, and I attended Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado studying Animal Genetics.

I have a particular interest in the genomic world and the product value that using different tools can bring when paired with phenotype. I believe that this is a valuable tool that can be helpful to all producers, whether you have ten cows or five hundred. This is a time in our industry where we have the ability to use science for all its advantages.

We are an exciting junction in the cattle industry of urban education, and I believe that the Limousin breed can be at the forefront of this movement, by community outreach at our major shows and at our more urban bull sale locations. This type of marketing has done wonders for the word 'Angus' why can't we do the same for the word 'Limousin'.

The success of our breed is dependent on young and future Limousin breeders, I believed that notion when I was a part of the very first Canadian Junior Limousin Association board. Across the country we need to stir up more interest in our membership, whether it be on our provincial level or beyond to our national. We maybe a small breed, but we have a strong support among current members.

I will strive to promote our breed to the top. I am truly honored to be considered for the board and especially alongside some excellent Limousin colleagues.

JIM SYMENS

For the last seven years we have been based at Claresholm, Alberta as a family owned and operated Limousin and Angus seedstock producer. Before that, we spent eight years in the lower main land of British Columbia raising Angus and Limousin based club calves. Most people know me from my involvement with Symens Brothers Limousin in South Dakota where I was in charge of physical promotion involving showing and sale presentation. My wife and family run about 200 head of mama cows and raise three active kids who are all involved with junior associations, 4-H, hockey and football. I think we need to unify and make our bonds stronger to take this breed into the future with everyone welcome. I will be promoting open and honest communication between members and board with my ears open for everyone from the east or west, north or south. If you raise fullbloods, purebreds or Lim-Flex, I am ready to listen.

Please plan to join us...

CCIA Encouraging Every Producer to Obtain PLA ID or PID Number

Premises identification is the assignment of a randomly generated, unique identification number to a physical land location referred to as a premises location allocator identification number or premises identification number (PLA ID or PID). The Canadian Cattle Identification Agency (CCIA) strongly encourages every producer to obtain a PLA ID or PID number from their provincial government before new proposed federal traceability regulation amendments are published (scheduled for Fall 2018).

Once you have your PID number, please update your CCIA account to include it. You may update your account yourself by logging into the Canadian Tracking System (CLTS) or by contacting the CCIA client support team at 1.877.909.2333 or by email at info@canadaid.ca.
